COMMISSIONERS DEFER DECISION ON 25 LOCAL ZONING PETITIONS

by Elaine Skolnik

After hearing seven hours of testimony, the Prince Georges County Commissioners on Friday, March 12, took under advisement the 25 long-deferred zoning petitions for a major apartment and commercial center in the pivotal College Park-Greenbelt area east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

Recommendations for this area are included in the Area 13 Master Plan adopted by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and in Greenbelt's own master plan, but the county commissioners have yet to act on the Master Plan.

The rezoning requests by the developers called for more than 400 acres for apartments and 54 acres for commercial development in the triangle formed by the Parkway, the Capital Beltway, and Good Luck Rd. 310 acres owned by Frank M. Ewing and Alfred H. Smith are within Greenbelt's boundaries along Glenn Dale Rd.

American Way of Life

Attorney T. Hammond Welsh, representing Smith and Ewing, originally asked for zoning that would provide 850 high-rise and 4,750 medium-density apartments. However, he stated that the owners would be satisfied with the Area 13 plan which calls for 232 acres in medium-density apartments, 20 acres in high-rise, and the remainder reserved for highway, school, and church sites. Welsh stated that "apartments are the American way of life."

The commissioners also heard the owners of the old Schrom airport property seek zoning for a mammoth "Metro Center" commercial development that would be more than just a regional shopping center. The developers foresaw 600,000 sq. ft. of commercial space, 200,000 sq. ft. of office space, 400 motel units, and 1,000 luxury executive apartment units.

Greenbelt Objects

The City of Greenbelt, represented by attorney Joseph A. DePaul, objected to most of the rezoning applications on the grounds that the increase of apartments would cause a "very serious health, safety and welfare problem" because of increased traffic along

Fed. Gov't To Fight Jaeger Decision

According to the Washington Post, the Interior Department has promised that it will "exhaust all legal remedies" to overturn a court decision granting high-rise apartment zoning for the 76-acre Jaeger tract which is surrounded on three sides by the Greenbelt Regional Park.

If that cannot be done, an Interior spokesman said, the Government is considering the use of scenic easements to keep apartments off the land.

The announcement came after Greenbelt representatives met with Senator Joseph Tydings and Interior officials on Wednesday, March 10. Representing Greenbelt were Mayor Edgar Smith, Councilmen William Hoff and Clifford Simonson, City Manager James Geise, and Charles Schwan, president of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. The Interior Department was represented by officials of the National Park Service and the newly-organized Open Spaces program.

Senator Tydings promised that he would actively support positive action taken by the Interior Department.

The Greenbelt delegation asked the community to make its feelings known to the Interior Department (Mr. Jett, National Park Service) by letter and by petition.

Glenn Dale Rd. DePaul urged the commissioners to lower the requested densities or deny the applications outright.

Although the area involved is near major freeways, the only access to much of it is over Glenn Dale Rd., which according to DePaul, cannot handle much more traffic than it does now.

Fred Tuemmler, planner for Smith & Ewing, argued that the character of the area has been changed by the establishment of the Goddard Space Flight Center. He believed that the road network, schools, and other facilities could easily accommodate the additional population. He also cited plans for a metropolitan rapid transit system which he claimed would be finished in time to serve the Smith and Ewing properties before they were fully developed.

John Joyner, Greenbelt's professional planner, challenged Tuemmler's figures of the traffic generated by the 25 petitions up for rezoning, and produced higher figures. He pointed out that the new access roads on the maps are only plans and that it will be years before such roads are built. The

11 Candidates File For GCS Election

Election time is coming soon for the Greenbelt Consumers Service Congress, and eleven candidates have already been nominated for the seven available seats on the Greenbelt delegation to the congress. Elections Chairman Si Pristoop has announced that additional candidates may still file. Their nominations must be signed by two members, and petition forms are available at the information booth in the GCS store, or from Pristoop (474-6362). All GCS members from the Greenbelt store area are eligible to vote, to nominate candidates, and to run as candidates.

Balloting will begin on April 27 and continue for several days. Ballot boxes will be placed in the GCS store and at the firehouse.

The GCS Congress is an advisory body, elected by the GCS membership. Each GCS store area is entitled to one Congress member per 200 store members; Greenbelt is now entitled to 12 Congress members. Congress members are elected for two-year terms, (approximately half of them one year and the other half the next year), and seven seats are to be filled this year. The five hold-over members, who were elected last year, are Pristoop, Ethel Rosenzweig, George Phibbs, Mary Barstow, and Mat Amberg.

The candidates already nominated are: Mrs. Jessie Dean, Mrs. Carnie O. Harper, Seymour Kaplan, Frank Lewis, Vackev Majer, and Ben Rosenzweig, all of whom are incumbents; and the following challengers: Kenneth C. Buker, Joseph

GHI Condemns MNCPPC Attitude; Members Suggest Possible Actions

by Sid Kastner

The directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI), coupled strong criticism of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission's zoning policies with a determination to "fight for this town," at Thursday night's meeting. President Charles Schwan has written to the District Council (County Commissioners), spelling out GHI's position, which supports the Greenbelt city master plan. Director Josephine Seay urged all citizens to sign the GHI petition requesting the Federal Government to purchase the Jaeger tract; the petition is posted at Twin Pines' office, High's store, or it may be obtained from Mrs. Seay or Roy Breashears, GHI manager.

Condemn MNCPPC Position

The directors expressed the view that the MNCPPC and its chairman, William Stevens, have largely ignored the wishes of the people. President Schwan stated "we should try and get through to the County Commissioners that fair representation has not been granted (by the MNCPPC)."

Director John O'Reilly was outspoken in condemning the attitude of the Commission. His motion, which passed, authorized attorney Alan Ginsberg to draft a proposed amendment to a bill to be presented to the state legislature, the effect of which would be to remove the city of Greenbelt from the zoning authority of the county. Though conceded small chance of passage, the amendment would dramatize Greenbelt's plight.

Director Nat Shinderman felt that exposing the city's predicament to area newspapers would be of aid. This could be done in several ways: letters to the editor, giving the story to reporters, and perhaps publishing President Schwan's letter to the District Council. The letter by Schwan, read to the board by GHI Manager Royal Breashears, was heartily concurred in by other board members; a motion by Director Gerald Gough was passed, commending the President for his effort.

Population Figures

O'Reilly suggested that it would be very worthwhile working with the figures on the population increase resulting from the Area 13 master plan, to show that most of the county's growth of population will be concentrated in the Greenbelt area; a rough calculation by Schwan, assuming an increase in the county of 500 people per week, showed that the Greenbelt area would receive two years of total county growth. Sam Cornelius, from the audience, noted that most citizens do not realize the population densities per acre implied by zoning classifications such as R-18, etc., and that it would be clearer to write down actual number densities per acre.

Meeting With Tydings

Schwan reported that he, City Manager James K. Geise, and others had met with Maryland Senator Joseph Tydings, T. Sutton Jett of the Park Service, and two representatives of the Housing and Home Finance Corporation, to discuss the possibility of the Park Service's acquiring the 76 acres of the Jaeger tract. HHFC could pay about 30% of the cost; however,

Pool Rates, Fireworks, Mall Discussed at Council Meeting

by G. K. Hodenfield

Swimming pool rates (they're going up), Fourth of July fireworks (we'll have 'em again this year), the shopping center mall (it's going to be renovated) and the Jaeger tract (that perennial problem of a parcel of property in a park) took up most of Monday night's three-hour City Council meeting.

Present were four councilmen, 1 mayor, 1 city manager, 1 clerk, 2 reporters, and—at various times—5 citizens.

A resolution raising the swimming pool rates was introduced at the March 1 meeting of council and came up this time for a second reading and final passage. The higher rates are necessary to help pay for the pool improvements—and no one questioned that.

Swimming Lessons Upped

Councilman Clifford Simonson protested, however, that the greatest percentage increase is in the cost of swimming lessons, and declared: "We may be pricing these lessons right out of the reach of those kids who need them most."

Mayor Edgar Smith noted, "It has never been our intention to make money on these lessons. Swimming lessons should be considered a service to the community."

After some discussion it was agreed to carry the matter over until the next regular meeting of council—by which time, it is hoped, City Manager James K. Geise can come up with some comparative cost figures and the citizens of Greenbelt can make their views known.

The proposed rate changes are as follows:

Residents	Present	Proposed
Family pass	$20.00	$25.00
Single pass	12.00	15.00
Swimming lessons—
adult	4.00	6.00
child	2.00	3.00
family children	3.00	5.00
Non-resident
Family pass	35.00	45.00
Single pass	20.00	25.00
Swimming lessons—
adult	7.50	10.00
child	4.00	7.50

Fireworks

On a motion by Councilman David Champion, council voted—a bit reluctantly, it's true—to spend up to $1,200 for Fourth of July fireworks. The vote was 4-1, with Councilman Lewis Bernstein opposed. Contributions from Greenbelt organizations will be gratefully accepted, not to buy more fireworks but to reduce the cost to the city.

Bernstein, acknowledging "I realize this is an unpopular position," said he was voting against the appropriation because, "I believe the city can spend this amount of money more wisely and I believe we can show our patriotism in ways other than burning up $1,200 worth of fireworks."

Councilman William Hoff said, "In principle I'm against it, too, but there were so many charges last year that we're not community-minded that I'm going to vote for it."

Simonson said, "I believe the community wants it, and will be glad to pay for it."

And said Mayor Edgar Smith: "There's no doubt in my mind that the people want it — after last year's complaints I know what they want."

Center Mall

City Manager Geise reported to council, "The concrete in the center mall is in very bad condition. It has been paved and repaved. It has settled, resulting in stumbling hazards and it has suffered from weather."

"In addition, it is commonly agreed that the mall is inadequately lit at night and a new lighting system is needed. Because of the layout of the present planting areas, the city has considerable trouble maintaining them."

Geise also suggested that when the mall is repaved it would be a good time to change the planting areas, and to make a better arrangement of the benches.

He proposed that council authorize the employment of T. D. Donovan and Associates to prepare preliminary plans for renovation of the mall, at a cost not to exceed $800.

In reply to a question from Councilman Bernstein regarding the use of the city engineer, Geise said it wasn't an engineering problem, but one of providing a good design.

Council finally agreed to withhold action until after a meeting with the businessmen's association and property owners, hopefully later this month.

Council heard a report on a meeting with Sen. Joseph Tydings regarding the Jaeger property (see separate story elsewhere on this page); and then took some action of its own.

On a motion by Simonson, Council agreed unanimously to officially urge Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to take all possible steps to purchase the Jaeger tract for the Greenbelt Regional Park. Copies of this communication also will be sent to Maryland's two senators and to all Congressmen representing this general area.

Council also went on record urging all citizens—of Greenbelt and the surrounding area — to write Udall, their congressmen, their senators, and anyone else they believe can help, urging that the Jaeger property be saved for the park.

Citizens Chart Course To Preserve Greenbelt

A representative group of 20 Greenbelt citizens met Tuesday to chart a course for the preservation of Greenbelt as a planned community. Called together by Charles Schwan, president of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., the group included representatives of the City Council, Greenbelt Citizens' Association, Businessmen's Association, Lions' Club, Twin Pines, and other leading private citizens.

Schwan set the keynote when he stated that "Greenbelt stands at the crossroads at as crucial a time as any in the history of the city." The buffeting the city has received through adverse court zoning decisions and the proposed Area 13 plan for Greenbelt threaten to change the whole character of the community, Schwan declared.

The group agreed to launch an organization dedicated to fighting for Greenbelt's Master Plan and to bring to public attention and to the attention of the county commissioners the deficiencies of the Area 13 plan.

A committee was formed to set up the apparatus for the mass citizen movement. Named to this committee were Mayor Edgar Smith, former Mayor Francis White, David Champion, Leo Gerton, and Schwan. Other persons will be added as soon as the consent of the individuals are obtained.

Support Our Ambulance Club

Greenbelt's ambulance club is conducting its annual drive for funds, and most of our readers have probably already received the coin cards the club has sent out. The members of the ambulance club are volunteers, and the service they provide our community is well known and greatly valued. But all sorts of solicitations for funds come in the mail, many of them for worthy causes, and it is easy to overlook some of them or to think "I've already contributed so much in the last few months — maybe I'll just give this one a miss."

Greenbelters, this is one fund drive we ought to support. The money will be used to purchase life-saving equipment upon which the welfare of someone dear to us may depend. Let's give, and give generously.

Letters to the Editor

Write Now To Support Bill

It's time to do something. Proper zoning requires protective procedures, and without them, Greenbelt might find itself surrounded by massive structures rather than a mass of trees.

Our county's Senator and delegation to the Maryland Legislature are now considering a zoning reform act. This bill would supply many safeguards now lacking. It would guarantee to all municipalities in the county, and also to all county taxpayers, the right to appeal to the courts in any zoning case. The bill would also cure certain serious inequities, such as the present legal provision which accords copies of the reports of the Planning Commission's technical staff to all rezoning applicants, but requires opponents of such rezoning to make written requests for the same reports — and to make them in advance of the public notice of the application advertised by the County Commissioners. In all, the bill would make eighteen important reforms.

The present legislative session ends April first, but the matter may be taken up and disposed of long before then. Greenbelt citizens who want the protection the Zoning Reform Act would supply should write, wire, or telephone at once to Senator Fred L. Wineland and also to one or more of the county's delegation, and make it plain that they want the bill passed. The delegates are Meyer Emanuel, Jr., Edward J. Conroy, Frances Meloy, Arthur Dorman, Royal Hart, Robert J. Dentz, Dennis Marshall, William J. Goodman, Donald Roberson, and Raymond J. McDonough.

Police Officer Commended

(Ed. Note: Following are excerpts from a letter to Greenbelt Chief of Police William T. Lane).

Dear Chief Lane:

On Feb. 7 while I was driving on the Beltway during a very heavy snow storm, my automatic windshield washer began to function and the windshield wiper stopped causing the windshield to freeze over and making it nearly impossible for me to see. Fortunately I was able to stop. . . . Officer David M. Brunk of the Greenbelt Police pulled in behind me and offered to assist. . . .

The purpose of this letter is to commend to you the actions of Officer David M. Brunk not only for his assistance but for his extreme courtesy to a motorist who was directly in need of assistance. . . . the actions of this officer made me aware of the fact that police are not only on duty to enforce the law but to assist those who are in distress and in need of immediate help.

How About It, Parents?

Open Letter to Parents:

How do you feel about having something go to waste?

Night after night the struggling students of Greenbelt are missing out on a service which is being offered to give them a quiet place to study with expert adult help for those with specific problems.

Monday through Thursday, from 7-9 p.m. every evening, the Methodist Church at 40 Ridge Rd. is open to any young person who wants to take advantage of a study area where he can get help in math, science, language, arts, and other subjects on request. Reference books and an unabridged dictionary are available.

Many nights there are no students. Can it be that the youth of Greenbelt do not need such a service? We feel it is much more likely that the parents and teachers in Greenbelt do not know that this service is available for our young people.

How about it, parents? Let's get your sons and daughters to the Study Hall at the Methodist Church at 7 p.m. and stop one area of waste!

LUTHERAN SERVICES

Rear Admiral J. Floyd Dreith, CHC, USN, Director of the Chaplain's Division, Bureau of Naval Personnel, will be the guest speaker at both services, 8:30 and 11:00 a.m., on Sunday, March 21, at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 22 Ridge.

Guest pastors are also a feature of our Mid-Week Lenten Services each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. An innovation this year is a question and answer period following the sermon to clarify any doubts.

Point of View . . . . . by Dorothy Sucher

I had a horrible dream the other night after a lobster dinner. I dreamed I was a fledgling Planner, newly graduated from Planning School, and that I was wandering down the corridor of an enormous office building with my diploma under my arm. I passed a door bearing the legend, "Good Planners, Inc.," but was propelled forward by some unseen force until I came to office number 13, the headquarters of Bad Planners, Inc., which I entered.

"So you're our new Planner," said a smiling well-dressed man. "I'm Mr. Grit. Here's your desk; you can get right to work."

I sat down at a large table covered with maps, but there was no room for my diploma. Mr. Grit caught sight of it and queried sharply, "Whats that paper? Not background material, I hope."

"Oh no, sir. It's just my diploma."

He laughed indulgently. "Oh well, that's different. Hang on to it, young lady, it proves you're qualified."

"Actually, sir, I feel a bit inexperienced."

"Happens to us all. I wouldn't worry. Now here's your first job. It's just a suburban area, so a few mistakes won't matter. You've got plenty of room to play around in."

I must still have looked worried, for Mr. Grit frowned. "Young lady, the public has no use for doubting Planners. Firm Planners, that's what's needed. Throw your shoulders back!"

"Yes sir."

His expression softened. "Well, you're new here. Here's a bit of advice from an old-timer, if you're not too proud to take it."

A Too-Fast Pass in Senate

When State Senator Wineland introduced his bill to give him veto power over appointments to the Maryland National Capital Park Planning Commission and the Maryland Suburban Sanitary Commission, his fellow senators, following custom, obliged him by passing the local measure.

What was not expected was the speed with which the majority of our county delegation then leaped forward to introduce and pass the bill in the house. They then at once called up and defeated a motion to reconsider it, so as to leave no time for anything to be done at the legislative level to prevent final passage.

Those voting for the bill were (in addition to Senator Wineland) delegates Meyer Emanuel, Jr., Edward Conroy, Raymond McDonough, Frances Meloy, Donald Roberson, and Arthur Dorman. Voting against the bill were Royal Hart, Robert Dentz, William Goodman, and Dennis Marshall.

It will be enlightening to see how our legislative representatives will treat the much needed Zoning Reform Bill. We will remember how they voted when it comes our turn to vote — at the polls in the next election.

Marjorie Bergemann

AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS

The Council of Churches of Greater Washington has revealed that funds are still needed to help defray the expenses of some of the ministers who flew to Selma, Alabama on Monday to march in the demonstration for voting rights for the Negroes of Alabama in response to the appeal of Dr. Martin Luther King. "Oh no, sir."

"Good. Every night before retiring, and every morning before you brush your teeth, repeat to yourself three times, 'I am a public benefactor.' It'll do wonders for your work."

"That's helpful, sir," I said. "Now, what do I do with these maps?"

"Plan!" cried Mr. Grit grandly, and he waved his arms. "Plan! Didn't they teach you anything in school? Make a list first — four-lane highways, shopping centers, high-rise apartments — whatever you think of."

"And then?"

"Put 'em in."

"That's all."

"All? Of course not. The main thing to remember is that neatness counts. Ink costs money and printers send bills. We don't encourage wasteful revisions around here. Now get to work."

Several hours later, Mr. Grit passed by to see how I was doing. He smiled as he leaned over the map. "Neat," he remarked. "Very neat. Not a blot. I like that."

"Thank you, sir."

"Attractive, too. Graceful curves in those highways there. Artistic." Suddenly his expression darkened. "What's this?" he roared. "You fool!"

"Why, it's a bird sanctuary, sir. To balance the shopping center."

"Well, I agree that it's needed, but you can't put it here. That's my friend John Grasp's land. Do you know what it's worth?"

"No, sir."

"A quarter of a million."

"But there's nothing on it, sir."

"Nothing on it? There's an application for rezoning to high-rise apartments on it, young lady; and a recommendation from our planning staff that high-rise apartments are desperately needed in that precise spot. Nothing on it, indeed!"

"I'm sorry, sir," I began to cry.

"Don't snivel. Take my handkerchief. Its not that I object to the bird sanctuary. But couldn't you simply move it across the street to this piece of land here?"

"Too small, sir."

"Not really. A few robins — a few sparrows — before you know it, you're in business. Let's move it here, shall we?"

"But sir, someone lives there."

He laughed indulgently. "You're just guessing. The map doesn't show any house."

"But a house exists — I've seen it."

"You mean, you KNOW THE AREA? Young lady, I'm shocked. You should have disqualified yourself right away. Anyway, even if there's a house, it can be torn down. The tenants are probably planning to move, as the suburban trend is toward a mobile population."

"They're not, sir. Actually, my aunt lives there."

"You're aunt!" Mr. Grit staggered backward, clutching his chest. "Young lady, you'd better keep quiet about it. Why, you've got a conflict of interest."

"I don't think so, sir. After all, your friend Mr. Grasp . . ."

"Quite different!" snapped Mr. Grit. "The very idea! Why, nobody's ever heard of your aunt. But Mr. Grasp is very well known and very rich. I don't like your attitude!" screamed Mr. Grit. He seized the plan upon which I had been working and tore it in half. "You're not qualified to be a Planner!" And he tore my diploma in half, too. "Impertinence! My friend Mr. Grasp . . ." His eyes were beginning to roll wildly. "Go wash out your mouth. Wash out your mouth, I say!"

And then I awakened.

Speaking Sternly . . . . . by David Stern

Have you ever noticed the small print on boxes of laundry detergent? Not the one proclaiming that it's all NEW, NEW (that's the big print, silly) but the one announcing that the contents are certified to be bio-degradable and will gradually decay and disappear after going down the drain.

Basically, it seems a sound idea. Instead of having the suds of upstate Maryland foam up the Potomac around Key Bridge we enlist the help of our good friends the bacteria (as any schoolteacher will tell you, many more bacteria are useful than harmful to mankind) to dispose of them en route. Only why stop with laundry detergents? In our opinion, the potentialities of bio-degradability have so far barely been touched.

The industrial revolution has created a trend towards better and more durable products. We think that the bio-degradable revolution, which is just around the corner, will reverse this completely. Just think what might happen next:

1963—Paper cups and cigarette boxes go bio-degradable. City Manager reports that Braden field is cleaner than ever before.

1967—Debut of the bio-degradable cigarette. New highway signs show Smokey the Bear cautioning motorists to make sure their cigarette butts are extinguished before tossing them out of the window. Other signs say "Winston degrades good, like a cigarette should."

1968—Newspapers introduce degradable paper. From now on, if an evening storm blows your News-Review all over the front yard, don't worry—by morning all your plants will have received an extra dose of fertilizer. Congress passes law requiring election posters to be degradable.

1969—An attempt to add a bio-degradability feature to disposable diapers ends in a miserable fiasco when diapers develop a tendency to dissolve prematurely.

1970—The degradable beer can is hailed as one of the greatest achievements of science (same year, man lands on the moon. So what?). Fish in Greenbelt lake develop iron deficiency; fishermen report fabulous catches using rusty nails for hooks and Geritol tablets for bait.

1971—Soft drink industry switches to degradable containers. Hoodlums (j.g.) trying to be nasty find no more empty bottles available for smashing on pavements.

1972—Detroit surprises nation and world by introducing cars made of bio-degradable fiberglass; owners are warned not to leave their vehicles parked in one spot too long. Junkyards along U.S. 1 close and civilization moves in once again.

1973— . . . but you can continue by yourself. The main fact to remember is that the bio-degradable revolution has arrived and we all had better take heed of the writing on the wall. Or rather, the writing on the laundry-detergent box.

High Point High Points

by Rachelle Chasnoff

Greenbelt students are making headlines in all phases of high school life! Linda Vose, Don Billings, both seniors; David Weiner, a junior; and Ruth Chasanow, a sophomore; were among the twenty-eight chosen by their fellow students to serve on the '64-'65 Blue and Gold Court honoring those who have contributed exceptional school service. Tomorrow evening, March 19, will conclude this year's Blue and Gold activities with the crowning of the King and Queen elected from the Court members. The festivities, featuring alumni talent, will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the boys' gym.

The Eleventh Annual Science Fair, March 6-7, presented a challenge to the following Greenbelters who placed in the event: Silvia Reeves, second place-architecture; Mary Dixon, third place-architecture; Harold Goldberg, third place-agriculture; Elwin Cutright, third place-electronics; Jeff Rosen, first place-engineering; James Brown, third place-engineering; Norman Weston, honorable mention-engineering; Cynthia Fritz, honorable mention-medical sciences; Adrienne Cornett, honorable mention-physics; Michael Kaplan, honorable mention-physics; and Cathy Hoffman, honorable mention - zoology. Former Greenbelter David Jefferson placed first in mathematics and was awarded the second Grand Prize.

TEEN CLUB NEWS

by Diane McCord

This Saturday night, March 20, there will be a band dance from 8 to 11 p.m. Music will be by "LAWRENCE & THE ARABIANS." School dress will be required.

If you are interested in attending an indoor swimming party, please let one of the Teen Club Officers know. If there are enough who want to participate, the party will be held on March 27. But if there is not a substantial number of people who want to go, the plans will be dropped.

LEGISLATION INTRODUCED ON WSSC AND MNCPPC

Legislation providing for changes in the procedure for naming members of the Maryland National Capitol Park and Planning Commission, and the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission, was introduced this week by Prince George's Senator Fred L. Wineland.

The Prince George's membership in each of the bi-county commissions would remain unchanged in numbers under the new proposal, but it would substantially change the method of selection of members. Suburban Sanitary Commission appointments have been made previously by the Governor with two of the three County appointments being nominated by the County Commissioners. Previously the membership of the Park and Planning Commission has been appointed solely by the Board of County Commissioners.

The new legislation provides that the appointments be made by the Governor on the nomination of the County Commissioners, and with advice and consent of the Senate. The bill, an emergency measure which would become law immediately upon its passage, also provides that vacancies during regular terms shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointments.

Travel Club Planning A Trip To Gettysburg

The Greenbelt Travel Club is planning a trip to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, on Sunday, April 4. Non-residents of Greenbelt are also invited.

Members will board the bus at 8 a.m. at the west parking lot, near the bank, and will return to Greenbelt around 8:30 p.m. the same day. Highlights of the trip will include visits to the Civil War Wax Museum and the Cyclorama, an audio-visual presentation and a guided tour of the battlefields.

Applications for this trip may be obtained at the Twin Pines Office.

City Notes

City Manager James Giese reports that work is progressing on the renovation of the Greenbelt swimming pool. The pouring of concrete for the sides and bottom of the main pool is being done in three sections under a portable, heated, plastic enclosure, and the first section was poured this week.

Greenbelt Police Officer Howard LeCompte took a group of North End and St. Hugh's School safety patrols on a guided tour of the FBI building in Washington on March 1. Center School safety patrols will be given a similar tour on March 8.

Police Chief William Lane reports a total of 9 auto accidents in Greenbelt during the month of February, as compared with 27 in January. Five of the 9 accidents involved only property damage, and personal injuries were reported in four cases.

Annual Ambulance Club Drive Starts Mar. 20

How the Ambulance Club Operates

For a minimum fee of $4.00 a year, we give you and your family complete ambulance service. This includes first-aid treatment, transportation, and all emergency services that can be expected of first-aid and rescue crews. This applies within a radius of 40 miles from Greenbelt. Any transportation outside of this area will have to be on a mileage basis with prior arrangements.

We carry more than the necessary minimum equipment required by the Prince Georges County Rescue Squad Association, of which we are members.

We have two ambulances, completely equipped, well-trained crews, and careful drivers.

A call for our help has never gone unanswered. We do not ask if you have made a donation to our Ambulance Club before we answer your call. We may ask this question during the run, but this is only for our records.

In the District of Columbia, the cheapest service we know of for an ambulance costs $15.00.

If you live in Greenbelt and have to call the nearest taxi for transportation to the closest hospital, it will cost almost as much as we ask for yearly service.

Another feature of our service is that in an emergency we can cut all the red tape at the hospitals, going right into the emergency rooms without having to fill out any forms, wait in line, or answer a lot of questions.

We do ask, however, that in case of sickness, the doctor be consulted, and if a trip to the hospital is necessary, the hospital be notified. This will save a lot of time at the hospital, when we must wait for room arrangements before we can leave the patient.

To make arrangements for routine transportation, call Rescue Squad Captain Ernie Varda, 474-2397, so that he can arrange for a crew at least 24 hours ahead of the necessary run.

We do feel that even though we have two ambulances in Greenbelt, that when we are on a call, and an emergency occurs that takes our other ambulance, then if a third emergency occurs, outside help must be called.

There are times, however, when one of our pieces must be out of town for various reasons. If need be, an outside ambulance can be called and stationed in Greenbelt during the necessary time, and give complete coverage to our members.

All of the Rescue Squad and Fire Department members think the biggest bargain anywhere is the amount of service you can command for your Ambulance Club membership of $4.00 as requested in the coin cards.

The men who man our equipment are VOLUNTEERS; that means they donate their time—studying, drilling, and on calls. These men are performing a public service. That is the reason they don't mind knocking on your door once a year to ask for a donation. Please have your coin card or check ready.

In Case of Emergency

In Greenbelt, to call for an ambulance or a fire truck, call UNION 4-1122. This will connect you directly with the Prince Georges County Fire Board. Do not call any other number for ambulance or fire emergencies because any calls will only have to be transferred to this number and time will be wasted. A trained dispatcher will gather the necessary information, and send the nearest piece of equipment. In case of fire, equipment will also be sent here from out of town.

When making a call to UNION 4-1122, give them the information asked for. The dispatcher wants to know what the emergency is, where it is, and who is calling. This is the only way he knows just what to send and just what, if any, special equipment is needed.

The voice on the other end of the line may seem maddeningly calm while he asks these questions but this is the way he has been trained to act, to get the necessary information. If he gets excited when talking to you, your excitement will tend to rise at the same time.

One of the lesser known services the Rescue Squad performs is the loan of crutches. We have on hand a few sets of crutches, both solid and adjustable, available on a loan basis to people who need them. There is no charge for this service; most of these were donated to us and we feel that they can be put to good use by anyone that has a need for them. On the other hand, if you have a pair which are not being used, whatever size, why not make them available for someone who has need of them? Call us and we will be glad to pick them up and put them in first-class condition. Help us build up our supply.

We also have a folding wheel chair available for the same purpose. If this item is needed, contact the Fire Station, GRanite 4-5511, for information as to its availability.

The Greenbelt Police number is 474-5454

WE HOPE YOU NEVER NEED US!!!

Greenbelt Master Plan, he said, will reduce the proposed density development by half, which will keep the traffic within manageable proportions.

No Legal Standing

Welsh argued that the Greenbelt Master Plan had no legal standing and was developed by professional planners under pressure from the citizenry. He commended the Area 13 plan as an objective plan developed by noninterested parties.

Another developer who sought medium-density apartment rezoning was Jacob B. Shapiro and the estate of Morris Cafritz, who owned 55.8 acres immediately east of the Smith & Ewing tracts on the south side of Glenn Dale Rd. After hearing a pessimistic report from the county planning board, the owners withdrew requests for all but 19 acres which had the planning board's approval.

Citizens Protest

The commissioners heard other testimony from private citizens. Charles Kiddy, 23 Woodland Way objected to plans for apartments at the expense of single-family homes. He observed that many people with growing families now living in Greenbelt apartments are forced to look elsewhere for housing because of the shortage of single-family dwellings. Why doesn't someone consider their needs, he asked.

Mrs. Evelyn Simonson, 8-C Ridge, followed up with the point that high-density development of the vacant land would result in a population of 50,000, of whom more than 80 percent would be rental apartment dwellers. The existence of a highly-transient population, she said, would make it difficult to maintain a community spirit with stable civic, church, and social organizations. The whole character of Greenbelt would change, she concluded, as schools, roads and other services become overcrowded.

William E. Behring, 24-D Crescent, also protested the increased population that would accompany the new rezonings. He argued that a disproportionate part of the increased costs for schools, roads, and other capital facilities would fall on the present citizens of Greenbelt and the county.

Simon Pristoop, 110 Northway, also raised a question whether apartment dwellings pay their own way. He wanted to see a demonstrated need for high-density development.

Gordon Allen, 14-X Ridge, asked that the News Review editorial of last week be entered into the rec-city officials and employees. Councilman Champion requested the delay, saying he hadn't had time to study it thoroughly but, "I read one section and it made me ill—I'd have to amend it to death."

—Also delayed action on the proposed leasing of the Athletic Clubhouse near St. Hugh's church to the Greenbelt Lion's Club. After considerable discussion of the lease terms, Councilman Hoff remarked, "I don't know why we're spending so much time talking about all this—out of this agreement can come nothing but good for our community."

—Agreed, most unhappily, to pay a bill in the amount of $1,328.25 to the Ira C. Rigger Construction Co.

ord and lent his endorsement to the city's opposition to the Smith Ewing requests for zoning.

James W. Smith, 35-H Ridge, stated that the citizens of Greenbelt have a right to draw up their own plan and to advocate it before the proper forum. This arises from the responsibility Greenbelt has to maintain a balanced development of open spaces, rental apartments, and owner-occupied units.

Safe, Quiet roads

Mrs. Miriam K. Cornelius, 14-V-1 Ridge Rd., stressed the fact that her family moved to Greenbelt because of its openness, its wooded areas, its safe quiet roads and its accessibility to Washington—all now threatened by the Area 13 plan.

Testimony was also given by city manager James K. Giese, who presented the City's Master Plan. The basic difference between this plan and Area 13 plan is that of density. The city's plan would provide for a maximum population of 36,000; the Area 13 plan for 49,000.

GHI manager Roy Breashears submitted for the record the corporation's statement which was published in last week's News Review.

and E. DonBullian Construction Co. for additional work involved in the demolition of the swimming pool, work not covered in the contract.

Bernstein said that because of a mistake by Greenhorne & O'Mara, the city engineers, the thickness of the concrete was given as 6 inches instead of the actual 10 inches on the plans submitted to the contractors—despite the fact that City Manager Giese had pointed out the 10-inch thickness to the engineers.

Council also took a dim view of a bill for $3,153, submitted by Greenhorne & O'Mara. It was based on a percentage of the lowest bid received ($183,952) for renovation of the swimming pool, although Greenhorne & O'Mara had agreed to come up with specifications with a $150,000 maximum.

Council unanimously agreed to Bernstein's motion that City Manager Giese advise Greenhorne & O'Mara that the city questions whether any bill at all should have been submitted.

Unanimously approved the request of Robert Scholton of Bob & Fran's Carry-out for permission to place tables on the sidewalk in front of his establishment, between April 1 and Oct 15. This was done last year, and there were no complaints.

—Agreed to "take the city to the people in the outlying areas, many of whom probably don't realize they are living in Greenbelt." This was the phrase used by Mayor Smith in recommending that Council schedule meetings with the people of Spring Hill Lake, Lakeside North, Charlestown Village, etc.

The City Manager was instructed to contact civic leaders in Spring Hill Lake to see if a meeting could be arranged there. If this proposed meeting is successful, others will be scheduled with other groups.

Baptist Church Film Sunday

The public is cordially invited to join the congregation of the Greenbelt Baptist Church to see "The City of the Bees", a Moody Science Series Film, on Sunday Mar. 21. The regular Sunday Evening Evangelistic Hour is at 7 p.m. The film will follow immediately.

C. Mously, Sam Schwimer, Evelyn Trudeau, and Mrs. Donald J. (Joanne) Volk. Two incumbents whose terms are expiring have indicated they will not run for another term, they are George Adams and Ralph Noble.

The coming elections were among the matters discussed at a meeting of the Greenbelt delegation on March 15. Plans were also made for the annual area meeting, which will be held at the Greenbelt firehouse on April 27. A chicken dinner will precede the meeting. Tickets are available in the GCS store or from Vaclav Majer, 474-6939.

Other Matters Discussed Business

An exploratory committee will work with representatives of other GCS branches to form a proposed youth adjunct to GCS. The group favored resuming support of the Little League after a lapse of several years. Nominations for positions on the Board of Directors will be made at meeting of the GCS Congress on March 19 at the Takoma branch. The meeting is open to all members.

the other 70% would still have to be obtained from some source. Director "Jeff" Chapman mentioned the possibility of exchanging the tract for some other area of the park. Schwan listed difficulties in the way of this, such as guarantees to the developer that he could indeed develop on the other land.

Seymour Kaplan, from the audience, brought up again a previous suggestion that Justice William O. Douglas be invited to Greenbelt Regional Park to look at the Jaeger tract situation. This time the board took direct action, with Gough moving that President Schwan communicate with Justice Douglas, acquainting him with the problem. The Justice's concern for conservation of our national resources is widely known.

Miscellaneous

Returning to housing matters, Manager Breashears introduced two recommendations for changes in the rules and regulations for additions. The first was to allow removal of certain radiators and their associated piping, upon formal written application. The second would change the regulations to allow for increased capacity of heating piping (cost to be borne by the member). Both recommendations were endorsed by motion.

Breashears and GHI Comptroller Don McGinn have drawn up a presentation of GHI's case for a lower tax assessment than the county's, which was termed very clear by President Schwan. Another meeting is to be held soon with the county assessor.

Space Science Course

Scientists having or working towards a doctorate in Physics, Mathematics or Engineering have an opportunity to participate in a course on space science scheduled to be held in the coming summer. The course is sponsored by NASA and by the American Society for engineering Education and will be held at Goddard Space Flight Center, the Dept. of Space Science of the Catholic University and the Electrical Engineering Dept. of the University of Maryland. Fifteen fellowships, including stipend and travel allowance, will be awarded to qualified applicants. Topics include Orbital Mechanics, Astronomy and Communication Theory, as well as specific research projects. For applications (deadline 1 April) write Mr. Clive C. Veri, Administrative Director, ASEE - NASA Summer Faculty Fellowship Program, University of Maryland, College Park.

Recreation Review

by Richard Stevenson
Director of Recreation
Music-Time in Greenbelt

Last Tuesday evening, the Greenbelt Concert Band presented its Spring Concert. Over 75 persons listened to the music of Grofe, Morrisey, Anderson, and Bernstein. Soloists for the evening were Mr. George Townsend, flute and Mr. James Robinson, trumpet.

Rehearsals for future performances are held each Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Youth Center. If you play an instrument and wish to join the band, please call the Recreation Department at 474-6878 for further information.

A superb evening of music was presented last Wednesday evening at the Greenbelt Community Church by the University of Maryland Trio. The Trio, Mr. Joel Berman, violin; Mr. William Skidmore, cello and Mrs. Evelyn Garvey, piano, presented works by Beethoven, Kirchner and Ravel.

Adult Crafts

Are you free during the day and interested in creative crafts? An adult crafts program will be offered during the day, if enough interest is shown. Call 474-6878 for further information.

Watch the Birdie

Calling all camera bugs! The Recreation Department is forming a camera club. This club will be affiliated with the Greater Washington Council of Camera Clubs, and will provide amateurs with criticism the incentive to do better work and, most important, a place to show their work. For further information, call 474-6878.

Classes Begin

Ballet and Gymnastics classes will begin Saturday, March 20 at 9 a.m. There are still openings in these classes. Registration will be held for the final time this Saturday.

Poetry Hour

The 4th, 5th and 6th Grade Poetry Hour will be held Friday, March 19 from 4-5 p.m. in the Greenbelt Center School Library.

Bowling League

There seems to be no end to the talents of our young bowlers. Every week scores come in that would put many of us adults to shame. For example: P. Labukas rolled a 198, S. Hahn a 196 and T. Trudeau, 192. R. Ford has an average of 154, G. Mankulish has a 153 and S. Hahn has a 139. Many of the boys and girls have entered the "Team" International Tournament for next Sunday, March 21. Games begin at 1 p.m. at the College Park Fair Lanes. Best of luck to all

MACHEN TO SPEAK FOR RETARDED

Community responsibilities to the mentally retarded will be discussed by Hervey G. Machen, U.S. Congressman from the 5th Maryland District, at a dedication ceremony to be held at the Prince Georges County Retarded Day Care Center, 78th Ave. and Garrison Road, West Lanham Hills, Maryland, on March 21 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Congressman Machen will appear as guest speaker at an Open House at the Center, which provided services for 35 mentally retarded children last year.

Established as a private, non-profit corporation and financed by state and county public agencies, the Center moved in October from its first, small, temporary quarters in a church to its present location which has room for 50 children.

The Day Care Center was established to provide a training facility for retarded children between the ages of three and twenty whose age or learning capacity is below the ability required for enrollment in public Special Education classes.

S. KLEIN FLOWER SHOW

S. Klein's Rose and Azalea Show will open on Friday and continue through April 4. A variety of merchandise will be given away to the first two hundred customers buying nursery items on March 19, 20, and 21. Prizes will be given with a drawing held every day of the show. The grand prize is the complete display rose and azalea garden, which includes over 25 varieties of patented rosebushes and 20 varieties of azalea. Last year St. Hugh's convent drew the lucky number.

Our Neighbors

by Elaine Skolnik - 474-6360

A re-check of last Friday's duplicate bridge scores revealed that Sid Barnett and Ginger Shopler emerged victorious by a point over runners-up, Tony and Ann Pisano. In third place were Lou and Lucille Lushine, a half-point behind. Next game: Friday, Mar. 26.

It's a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seal, 418 Ridge. Deborah Lee made her debut March 6 weighing 6 lbs. 4 oz. She has a sister, Stephanie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kirkendall, 15-H Laurel, proudly announce the arrival of a son. March 6 was the all-important date.

Happy-happy birthday to Laura Jean Mongelli, 45-G Ridge, who is three years old today.

Friends and neighbors of Louis Gordon, 4-F Gardenway, will be saddened to learn of his death. Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Gordon.

PARENTS: Please let your children know of the study-hall program held Mondays through Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Methodist Church, 40 Ridge. Encourage them to take advantage of this marvelous opportunity — to work in a quiet atmosphere with reference books at hand, and if they are in need of help, there are experts in language arts, mathematics, science, etc. ready to assist. The program is sponsored by the Greenbelt Tutoring Services.

The new sound coming from the home of John and Barbara Havelkost, 2-G Gardenway, is that of baby Karen Lynn who joined the family on Thursday, March 11, weighing in at 6 lbs. 7 oz. Karen will have plenty of attention from sister Susan and brothers Brian and Charles.
